America's original jazz dance company closes out its 55th season with its fourth full-evening appearance at the Auditorium Theatre. Led by Nan Giordano, celebrating 33 years of leadership and her 25th year as Artistic Director, the company brings its "high-octane energy" (Chicago Sun-Times) to the stage with pieces including company founder Gus Giordano's Giordano Moves and Wings (which features live music by the Bournés), Frank Chaves' (River North Dance Chicago) Grusin Suite, Ray Leeper's Feelin' Good Sweet, Christopher Huggins' Pyrokinesis, and Joshua Blake Carter's new work Take A Gambol.
